

The Traveling Early Modern Philosophy Organization presents:

TEMPO 2025

A Modern Conference
Georgetown University,
Washington, D.C., April 25th-26th, 2025

Paper abstracts now being accepted on any aspect of Modern philosophy, understood roughly as the period from Montaigne through Mill.

Submissions on Sor Juana and related figures, methods, and themes are particularly encouraged.

Keynote Presentation by Daniel Whiting (University of Southampton), "Cavendish (and Aristotle and Augustine but not Hobbes) on Virtue"

Plenary Talks by

Huaping Lu-Adler (Georgetown University), "Kant, Epistemic Dependence, and the Politics of Knowledge Production"

Maité Cruz (Union College), "Shepherd on Mathematics"

Alejandro Naranjo Sandoval (University of California, Davis), "Time, Mutability, and Punishment in Conway"

The TEMPO Board remains committed to increasing the representation of diverse voices across Modern philosophy scholarship.

To submit an anonymized 300-500 word abstract, visit our website at <http://tempo-conference.net>

Deadline for submissions: Jan. 31, 2025 (Notification of acceptance by Feb. 18)

You can also register for our Sor Juana reading group to take place ahead of the conference.

Please direct questions to Program Committee Chair, Virginia Sharpe (v.sharpe@rutgers.edu)